To whom it may concern:

The Northern Kentucky Homebrewers Guild is a group of Homebrewers from the Greater Cincinnati Area who share a passion for making great beer. We are a simple organization of men and women who gather regularly at our members homes, local breweries and restaurants to brew together, share our experience and learn about our hobby. One of the greatest things about our group is our commitment to our community, which is the reason I write you today.

On April 20th, the Northern Kentucky Homebrewers Guild will be hosting the Hammerdown Brew Cup Homebrew Competition. Homebrewers from around the region submit their beers to this BJCP sanctioned homebrew competition to go head to head with their peers and other homebrew clubs to see who can brew the best beer in their category. The primary sponsor of this event is Braxton Brewing Company, who's co-founders Evan and Greg Rouse were stalwart members of the Guild.

All the proceeds raised by Hammerdown benefit local charities. Over the past three years, we have raised thousands of dollars in this effort. This year, the proceeds raised by Hammerdown will benefit the Northern Kentucky Children's Advocacy Center. To help us increase our proceeds and make the biggest possible impact, last year we held our first charity raffle during our Hammerdown Happy Hour and awards ceremony. This is the celebration we hold at Braxton Brewing in the evening after the competition. At the happy hour, we announce the winners, tap the previous year's winning beer and hold our charity raffle.

Our raffle could not be successful without the support of businesses such as yours. Donations of any size are accepted and appreciated. If you can help us with a donation that we can include in the raffle, we will recognize your business with signage during the event as well as on social media and our website.

Thank you in advance for your support! Please don't hesitate to contact me with any questions or concerns.

Respectfully yours,

Chris McGreevy
